

COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTER INC./WEITZMAN INSTITUTE DISCLOSURE OF RELEVANT FINANCIAL RELATIONSHIPS FOR CE ACTIVITIES

It is Community Health Center Inc. (CHCI) and its Weitzman Institute's policy to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor to all programs it provides.

Individuals must disclose relationships with ineligible companies if both (a) the relationship is financial and occurred within the past 24 months and (b) the individual has the opportunity to affect the content of the CE about the products or services of that ineligible company.

CHCI/Weitzman Institute requires that anyone who is in a position to influence or control the content of the CE activity disclose relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies so that any potential for commercial bias can be identified and resolved prior to the start of the CE activity.

Having an interest in or an affiliation with the corporate organization does not necessarily prevent you from making the presentation, but the relationship must be made known to the audience and will be reviewed in advance by the appropriate CE activity staff as detailed in CHCI/Weitzman Institute's CE Policy. Failure to disclose or a false disclosure may result in your removal from the program.

Definitions:

Ineligible company – an organization whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. Examples of such organizations include by are not limited to device manufacturers or distributors, diagnostic labs that sell proprietary products, and pharmacy benefit managers. The ACCME does not consider providers of clinical service directly to patients to be ineligible companies.

Relevant Financial Relationship – financial relationship(s), existing in any amount, which occurred in the 24-month period preceding the time that the individual was asked to assume a role of controlling content of the CE activity, and which relate to the content of the educational activity, causing a conflict of interest.

The ACCME considers financial relationships to be relevant in CE when individuals have both a financial relationship with an ineligible company and the opportunity to affect the content of CE about the products or services of that ineligible company. Relationships are relevant if the “educational content an individual can control is related to the business lines or products of the ineligible company.”
